DEFENDANT WINS IN WILL CONTEST

Children of Herman Heckman, Deceased, Fail in Effort to Prevent Probate of Will.

GRANDCHILDREN GET ESTATE

Plaintiffs Objected to Trusteeship of Property—Case on Trial for Several Days.

A verdict in favor of Albert H. Kasting, executor and trustee of the estate of Herman Heckman, deceased, was returned by a jury in the Jackson circuit court about 8 o'clock Thursday night, following a deliberation of four hours. The case had been on trial for several days and a large number of witnesses were called to testify. Between $25,000 and $30,000 was involved in the suit.

The plaintiffs in the case were George Heckman, Fred Heckman, Mrs. Elizabeth Spray and Mrs. Clara Weihe, children of the testator, who contested the provisions of the will because of the creation of a trusteeship of the estate. The will was drawn up by Albert L. Kasting, a local attorney, who was named as executor and trustee. Unsoundness of mind of the testator, undue influence and fraud were the charges of the plaintiffs in seeking to prevent the document from being probated.

Under the provisions of the will the entire estate of Mr. Heckman is to be distributed among his grandchildren. None of his children is to share in the property, according to the terms of the document. The will provides that the grandsons shall receive their respective shares when they reach the age of twenty-one and the granddaughters shall become eligible to their shares when they attain the age of twenty-one or as soon as they are married. Mr. Kasting was named executor in the will and was also named as trustee over the property until the youngest of the grandchildren is entitled to take possession of his property.

One section of the will which was bitterly assailed by the plaintiffs provides that in case any of the grandchildren should die leaving children, before they come into possession of their part of the estate, Mr. Kasting should continue to act as trustee of such part of the estate until the child reaches twenty-one years. The plaintiffs contended that under this provision, Mr. Kasting might continue his trusteeship for a period of thirty-five or forty years.

The attorneys for the executor insisted that Mr. Heckman was of sound mind at the time he made his will and that the provisions were made for the trusteeship so that he might be assured that the property would be safe until the heirs which he designated were old enough to take care of it.

Mr. Heckman died in November, 1918, and the will has not yet been probated. The plaintiffs brought the action at this time in an effort to prevent the document from being probated and the provisions executed as specified. The jury received the case about 3:45 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

PARTY CONFERENCES ARE HELD ON PEACE TREATY

Compromise Proposals Are Discussed—Elimination of Lenroot Reservation.

By United Press

Washington, January 2.—Important party conferences on the peace treaty were held today by Senator and Democratic leaders. At the conference plans were made for reopening the treaty discussion when the senate meets Monday, and compromise proposals were discussed. Republicans of every shade of opinion gathered in Lodge's offices to go over certain proposals received early in the week from Democrats, including a proposed modification of the reservation on article ten and the virtual elimination of the Lenroot reservation to equalize the voting strength of the United States and the British empire.

CONTROL TAKEN BY NEW TELEPHONE CO.

Seymour Mutual Telephone Company and Seven Other Exchanges Included in Consolidation.

DEFINITE PRICE NOT FIXED

Commission Agrees That $200,000 Shall Be Made as The First Payment on Properties.

The Seymour Mutual Telephone Company and seven other companies in Jackson, Jennings and Scott counties and the exchange at Bicknell, today passed into the control of the Southern Indiana Telephone & Telegraph Company which was recently organized by local capitalists. The incorporators are L. C. Griffiths, J. H. Andrews, H. H. Carter, J. V. Richart and J. B. Thompson. The company is capitalized at $500,000. It is understood that the new company expects to secure control of a number of other exchanges in this part of the state in the near future. All of the properties will be operated as a unit. The home offices will be located in Seymour and present plans call for the erection of a three-story building for the accommodation of the various departments.

Mr. Griffiths stated this afternoon that the new company had made a first payment of $200,000 on the properties taken over and that the balance would be paid as soon as the valuations were definitely fixed by the Indiana public service commission. He said the officers of the new company were desirous of taking over the telephone exchanges the first of the year and that the commission fixed the amount of the initial payment on a conservative basis so there would be no danger of the company disposing of more stock than the combined plants are worth. The initial payment on the local exchange, it is stated, was fixed at $66,666, while the commission recently placed a valuation of $76,000 on the plant for rate making purposes. The company expects this valuation to be increased after the survey is made and the final price will be based upon the definite figures of the commission.

Mr. Griffiths stated that according to the old valuations of the commission the exchanges merged represent more than $300,000 and the company believes that final valuations will reach an aggregate of $400,000. The $200,000 first payment, he said, includes only the physical property and does not take into account reserve funds, stocks and bonds held by some of the companies, outstanding accounts or any other of the assets. These will be included in the final valuations upon which the ultimate price of the exchanges will be based.

Mr. Griffiths and Mr. Carter today announced that they had purchased the New Washington Telephone Company which operates telephone lines from Lexington to the Ohio River. It is understood that the purchasers will later transfer this exchange to the Southern Indiana Telephone & Telegraph Company and it will be operated by that company.

DISASTROUS FLOODS IN SOUTHERN STATES

Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi suffered most heavily in the recent floods. Heroic rescue and aid work was done by the Red Cross. The property damage was estimated at many thousands, and over 1,000 persons were made homeless by the rushing waters. Here is a photograph taken at West Point, near Atlanta, Ga., where the Chattahoochee overflowed its banks.

1920 PROMISES TO BE GOOD YEAR HERE

Indications Are Next Twelve Months Will Bring Many Improvements in The City.

BIG PROGRAM OF ACTIVITY

Number of New Buildings Being Erected Which Will Add to Appearance of Business District.

A period of great activity, with much building and construction work, is promised for Seymour during 1920. There has probably never been a New Year in the history of the city when so much important building was in progress. Other extensive improvements of a permanent character are either under way or planned during the next few months. Unless something unforeseen occurs, the close of the present year will find a decided change in the appearance of the business district and in some of the residential sections.

Among the important improvements which will be made during the year is the installation of the post-lighting system on seven blocks in the business district at a cost of $10,000. The contract for this work was awarded by the city council several weeks ago and it was hoped that part of the system could be inaugurated before December 25, 1919, but conditions arose which had not been expected and a serious delay resulted. However, the difficulties are being ironed out and it is thought now that the work will begin this month or not later than February. Most of the materials are on the ground and the construction will go forward rapidly when the contract is undertaken. This system will give the business section better illumination than it has ever had and the benefit will be direct to the entire city. As an advertisement feature alone the post-lighting system is estimated to be worth the cost of construction.

For many years the business district has not kept pace with the residential sections in the matter of improvements, but during 1920 many changes will be made. The New Lynn hotel building is being remodeled and announcement was recently made by L. R. Fosgate, proprietor that thirty new rooms are to be added, and that other extensive repairs and improvements will be made soon after the first of the year. The building has already undergone some remodeling, both on the interior and exterior, and the appearance is greatly improved. Mr. Fosgate has announced that it is his intention to make the New Lynn one of the very best hotels in southern Indiana.

Adjoining the hotel building on the west is the Federmann drug store building. Improvements costing thousands of dollars will be made on that structure and the room will probably be ready for occupancy about March 1. W. L. Federmann,

TAKING OF CENSUS IS STARTED TODAY

City and County Enumerators, Armed With Prescribed Forms, Begin Important Work.

MANY QUESTIONS ARE ASKED

Census Officials Impress Public With Necessity of Answering Questions Accurately.

The taking of the fourteenth decennial census was started today. Local enumerators began their work at the specified hour and made good progress during the first day of employment. In the city the census is to be completed within two weeks, while a month is allowed for the work in the rural sections.

City officials repeat their request that the people of Seymour lend cooperation to the enumerators that the reports may be complete and accurate. It is desired that every one be included in the count this year and this is impossible unless the people of the city make a special effort to aid the enumerators and answer all questions fully and correctly. Information given to the enumerators cannot be divulged to any one but the census officials and can be used for no other purpose than to compile the census reports.

BOLSHEVIKI OPEN GATEWAY TO INDIA

Russian Soviet Government Now Able to Extend Communication to Entire East.

ADDITIONAL RED VICTORIES

General Maurice British Military Expert, Urges Government to Act Immediately.

London, January 2.—The road to India is open and the Russia Bolsheviks now threaten to establish communication with the entire east, General Maurice, British military expert, declared today in an article in the Daily News.

Official anxiety over the military situation in Russia was heightened by a dispatch from Moscow in which the soviet government claimed that its army has entered Bokhara, the gateway to Afghanistan.

"An immediate policy" should be established by the British government to prevent further extension of the Reds' sphere of influence in countries now under British control or protection, Gen. Maurice asserted.

Bolshevik emissaries have started a concentrated propaganda in the British sphere of influence to the north and west of India, according to advices here.

With sporadic revolts already reported from the hill country of north India and fighting reported between Waziri and Maysud, tribesmen and British forces, British observers believed the Bolshevik teachings already have begun to bear fruit.

Dispatches today amplified the Moscow wireless advices of armies yesterday which announced a Bolshevik victory for the Red armies attacking Gen. Denikin's anti-Bolshevik troops in South Russia.

Beside capture of the towns of Ekaterinoslav and Novomoskovsk the Reds claim to have taken several other towns.

Denikin's armies continue their retreat toward the sea of Azov, the Reds claimed and it was admitted in British military circles that Denikin apparently is doomed to follow the fate of Yudenitch and Admiral Kolchak, in an effort to establish an anti-Bolshevik government for Russia.

250 ALLEGED REDS HELD IN CHICAGO

Campaign to Rid City of Radicals Started Under Direction of State Attorney.

MEETING PLACES ARE RAIDED

Charged That Department of Justice Refused Assistance and Even "Tips Off" Raids.

By United Press

Chicago, January 2.—Two hundred men and women have been taken into custody today in the campaign started under the direction of Maclay Hoyne, state's attorney, to rid Chicago of Reds.

The raids continued throughout the night. Homes and meeting places of alleged revolutionists were broken into and the leaders taken to jail. Hoyne stated the raids were first planned with the co-operation of justice. However, the department refused to participate in the campaigns at the same last minute. He accused the department of playing politics and ordered the raids to continue without aid from the federal government.

Leading radicals of Chicago were among those seized. It was reported that the raiders were searching for "Big Bill" Hayward, but they had not been able to locate him early today.

Hoyne charged the alleged anarchists at meeting held here have plotted to overthrow the government and slay United States officials. Hoyne openly charged that agents of the department of justice had "tipped" the radicals that the raids would be made.

Grand jury investigation of Red activities was planned today by Maclay Hoyne, state's attorney, following arrest of 258 alleged revolutionists in three hundred raids here during the last twenty-four hours.

Hoyne announced he would ask Chief Justice Crowe of Criminal court to summon the grand jury. Hoyne stated he believed his investigation has gathered sufficient evidence to deport or imprison every one caught in the raid. Prosecutions will be made under the new Illinois anti-red law which provides for ten years' imprisonment for any one found guilty of planning to overthrow the government. Bitter feeling existed between the state attorney's forces and agents of the department of justice.

Edward Brennan, department of justice representative here, denied there was any friction between the department and the state's attorney's office. Hoyne said that if the raids had not been carried out as planned the fruits of five months' investigation would be wasted. He accused Palmer of playing petty politics.

The scope of the Chicago raids is an indication of what may be expected in other cities, Hoyne stated.

Among those arrested were James Crowley, secretary of the Chicago branch of the socialist party; George Andreytchine, who served a sentence in Leavenworth prison for objecting to military duty and Annie Grodarsky, known as the "little rebel."

MEXICO ADOPTS NEW POLICY TOWARDS U. S.

Protests Against Alleged Mistreatment of Her Citizens in This Country.

By United Press

Washington, January 2.—Mexico has protested to the United States against the alleged murder and mistreatment of her citizens in this country, according to unofficial advices from Mexico City today. While official comment is being withheld at this time, it was believed that Mexico is adopting the policy of "tit for tat" to prolong the negotiations and, if possible, put this government on the defensive. Carranza contends a Mexican section hand was killed in Texas last month.

THE ENUMERATION.

The task of taking the decennial census enumeration was started throughout the country today. The information desired by the department covers a wider field than ever before and the statistics to be compiled from the various reports will show the progress that has been made in practically every activity. It is important that the questions asked by the enumerators be answered fully and accurately. Only by the hearty cooperation of the public can the government make its final reports full and complete.

Locally, we are interested in the enumeration that the population count in Seymour and Jackson county may be accurate. Apparent error was made in this city in 1900 and also in 1910. There were many omissions, some families were missed altogether while only part of the members of other families were listed. The omissions were due in part, no doubt, to the failure of the public to give the information desired. They may also be accounted for by the fact that the enumerators failed to fully explain the information they wanted.

The government stresses the fact that the information given to census enumerators cannot be used for any other purpose than to compile the census reports. No one need hesitate to answer the queries fully. The enumerators are sworn to secrecy. The government will see that none of the information given to them as enumerators will be divulged to anyone save the census officers.

POLL TAX EXEMPTION.

Many former service men have been under the erroneous impression that they would not be required to pay poll tax because of their service in the army. So many inquiries were made of the county treasurer's office that the state board of tax commissioners was asked for a ruling.

The board held that any soldier who was not in the service on March 1, 1919, is subject to the payment of poll tax in 1920. "The old law," the ruling says, "which was in effect March 1, 1918, did not exempt anyone in the United States service. It only exempted those belonging to the active militia of this state. In the new tax law, however, it exempts all who may be in the active service of the militia and the United States army and navy, but it would only be during the time they serve in such active service."

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

For County Auditor.

Chauncey F. Lautzenheiser (pronounced Lots-en-hiser) authorizes his announcement as a candidate for the nomination for the office of Auditor of Jackson County, subject to the decision of the Democratic voters of said county at the regular primary election to be held on May 4.

TAKING OF CENSUS IS STARTED TODAY

Penalties are provided for anyone giving out such information.

Five census takers are at work in the city, one in each ward. F. W. Wesner is assigned to the First ward, Simon Eacret to the Second, Mrs. Lucy Jerrell to the Third, Mrs. Lola Pinchon to the Fourth and Charles Steinwedel to the Fifth.

The United States census is taken every ten years. Past experience has taught the statisticians that many persons, notably persons of foreign birth, are suspicious of callers who ask questions. Their apprehension seems to be that information they give may be used to cause increased taxation, legal entanglements or other untoward consequences.

Points on which all persons should be prepared to give information are the following:

1. Age at last birthday.
2. Each person 10 years of age and over will be asked whether he is able to read or write.
3. Each person will be asked his

LADY GRATEFUL FOR HELP RECEIVED

"For 15 years I suffered increasingly with stomach and liver trouble. Bloating with gas distressed me very much and caused serious heart fluttering. All medicine only relieved temporarily. I gave up hope of ever being cured. My druggist advised me one day to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I am feeling like a new woman since and can now eat anything with no ill results." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At druggists everywhere.

the proprietor, has made elaborate plans for the arrangement and decoration of the store, and the various departments will be handsomely quartered. The change in this building will greatly add to the general appearance of that block of the business section.

A number of other buildings are to be remodeled or replaced with new structures, if the present plans of the owners are carried out. Some of these plans are not yet ready for public announcement but arrangements will be completed within the next sixty days, it is thought, so that the details can be related.

In the residential sections many new homes are being built and others are being remodeled and improved. Contractors declare that they already have enough work to keep them busy for the next three or four months and some of them are refusing to consider any more contracts unless they can be completed at their own time.

There is considerable public work scheduled for the year. The state highways will be finished and the road conditions out of Seymour will be better than ever before. Concrete highways will extend for two miles east of the city on the High street road and the Jonesville road will be paved from the city limits to the Jackson county line. A new concrete highway from the city to the White school house, a distance of two miles on the Walnut street road, has just been completed. Other contracts are contemplated and will be awarded if the present plans of the state highway commission are not defeated.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bolles, and sons, were here this morning enroute to their home at Oshkosh, Wis., from a short visit with the former's father, W. R. Bolles, at Brownstown.

Mr. William H. Johns, speaking as President of the American Association of Advertising Agencies, recently said:

"The newspaper has such a quick, direct appeal to the public that it is destined to be more and more recognized as the biggest, most essential and thoroughly recognized factor in national as well as local advertising, just as all concede today that even the smallest local newspaper helps frame national opinion on matters of politics, morale, tastes and habits."

TURNING OUT USEFUL MATCH

Thirteen Distinct Processes From the Log to the Hands of the Consumer.

Matches begin life as a three-foot log and undergo at least thirteen distinct processes before they reach the state in which we use them.

First, the bark of the log is chopped off, then the log goes through a veneering machine, which cuts it into strips, and these strips in turn disappear into the chopping machine, to reappear as match sticks.

As the match sticks fall out of the chopping machine into a chute, they are sucked up through a large pipe to drying machines on the floor above. After undergoing the drying process they are sorted and stacked in shallow boxes ready to go to the dipping machine. This machine is an arrangement of endless-chain carriers, which pass the tips through the fire-making solution. Such a machine can readily handle 1,000,000 matches at a single operation.

After being tipped off, the matches are packed into paper boxes and journey forth to make the world brighter.

To Escape Hydrophobia.

When bitten by an animal that is suspected as mad, the best thing to do, according to Drs. J. C. Regan and A. Silkman of New York, who describe a recent case in Archives of Diagnosis, is to squeeze the wound to encourage bleeding, wash it with a solution of mercuric chloride (1 in 1,000), cauterize it with fuming nitric acid, and apply a wet dressing of the mercuric chloride solution. The wound should never be sewn up; if a deep punctured wound, it should be cut open with a scalpel.

What Keeps a Battery Young?

To be reliable, a storage battery must have well-made plates. Battery solution must be proper strength and required purity. Battery jars must be mechanically strong and must allow no leakage of current or battery solution. But it's the insulation between the plates that keeps that battery full of life and adds months to its term of useful service. Drop in and ask us to tell you about Threaded Rubber Insulation, and some of the records it has made in keeping batteries on the job for beyond what used to be the battery age limit.

85,000 ENUMERATORS TO TAKE DECEMBER CENSUS

Count Expected to Show Population of About 107,000,000—Many Women Employed.

Washington, Jan. 2—An army of 85,000 enumerators today begin the work of counting the men, women and children of the United States and of collecting certain information about the resources of the country. The taking of this census, the fourteenth in the history of the nation, is expected to require only about two weeks, but figures showing the total population probably will not be available until the end of April. Workers went forth with an especially prepared portfolio and a commission signed by Sam L. Rogers, chief of the bureau. The count is expected to show a population of from 107,000,000 to 112,000,000, as compared with 93,000,000 in 1910. The estimated population on July 1, 1919, was 106,871,294. Cards will be collected by 372 supervisors and forwarded to headquarters here, where 4,000 clerks will be engaged in the tabulation work. Totals for each of the items on the cards will be tabulated by specially designed machines. Officials expect to be able to make a preliminary estimate of the population of the larger cities by the middle of March, but returns for the country districts will not be completed until later. The census includes the collection of data on farms, manufactures, forests and oil production, in addition to the enumeration of persons. The fourteenth decennial census is the first to be taken during the winter months. While severe weather may be a handicap in some sections, the change was made in order that the enumeration might be completed before the election primaries of the summer season. For the first time, also, women have been employed as supervisors. Maximum pay allowed by law is 4 cents per person, with a higher rate for farm hands. Congress appropriated $22,000,000 for the work. The first census, taken in 1790 during the administration of George Washington, showed the population of the new republic to be 3,000,000.

BIG INCREASE IN NUMBER OF AUTO LICENSES IN 1919

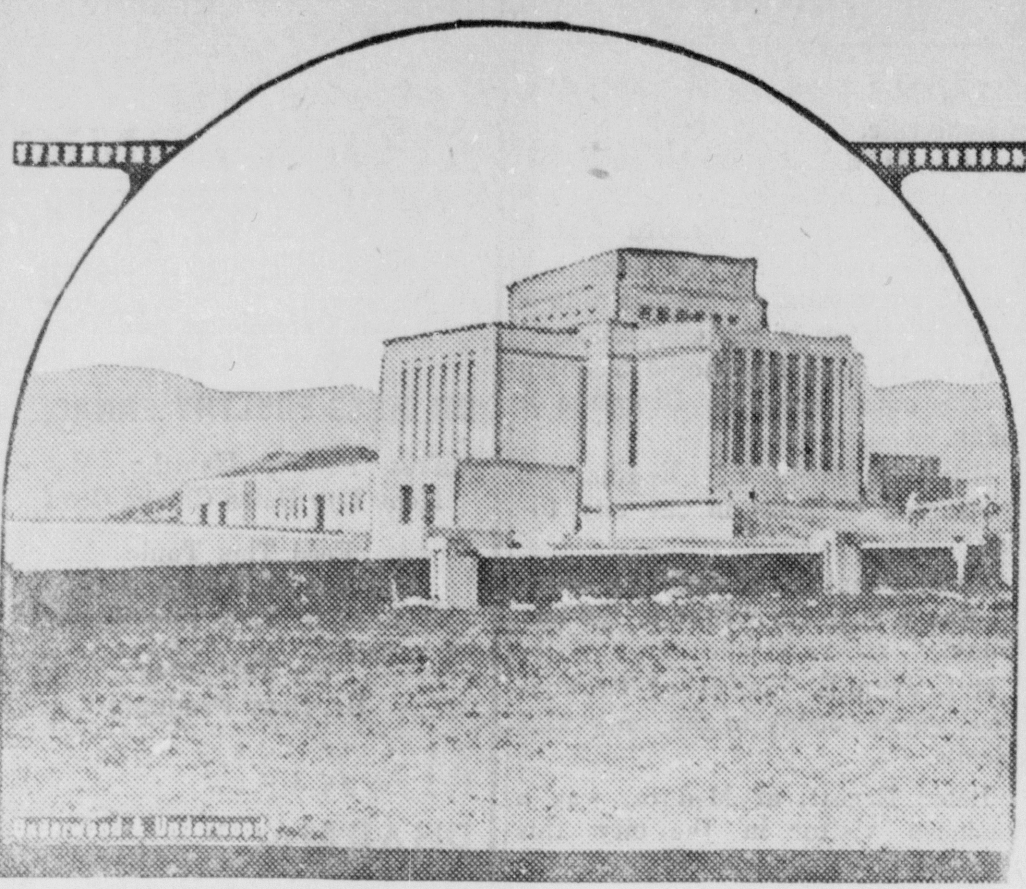

Money Will Be Used by The State Highway Commission—Motorcycles Show Decrease.

During 1919, 277,254 automobile licenses were issued by the automobile department of the office of the secretary of state. The fees received by the state for the licenses totaled approximately $1,660,000. In 1918 the number of automobile licenses issued was 227,160, indicating an increase of 50,090 motor-driven vehicles for Indiana during the past year. The 1918 fees amounted to $1,229,128.50. Automobile licenses issued during 1917 totaled 192,192. There has been a decrease in the number of motorcycles in the state during the year. During 1919, 8,996 motorcycle licenses were issued, while in 1918, 9,112 motorcycles were licensed, a decrease of 116. It is said that the sales of motorcycles are falling off in the state and throughout the country because of the preference being shown for light automobiles. The number of licensed chauffeurs in Indiana increased 1,769 during the year. Chauffeurs' licenses issued in 1919 aggregated 6,410, as compared with 4,641 during 1918. The end of 1919 marks the close of the apportionment of the automobile license fees to the counties of the state. Beginning with 1920, according to the provisions of recent legislation, the license fees will go into the funds of the state highway commission. The money is to be used by the commission in the maintenance work on the state highway system of approximately 3,500 miles, officials of the commission say. It is estimated that the funds received from the license fees during 1920 will total about $2,000,000.

Lesson 1 January 4 First Quarter

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PETER PREACHES AT PENTECOST. Acts 2:1-42.

GOLDEN TEXT—Whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Joel 2:28-32. John 14:15; Acts 1:8.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Peter telling about Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Story of Pentecost.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Three Thousand Won in a Day.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S AND ADULT TOPIC—The Permanent Meaning of Pentecost.

1. The Day of Pentecost Fully Come (vv. 1-13).

1. Significance of the day. Pentecost means "fifty." It was the feast held fifty days after the wave-sheaf offering (Lev. 23:16). The wave sheaf typified the resurrection of Christ (1 Cor. 15:20-23).

2. The gift (vv. 2-4). On this day the Holy Spirit came upon the disciples in a new way, and from that time forward he has worked on a new basis, having the crucified, risen and ascended Christ to present to the world.

3. Upon whom the Spirit came (v. 14, cf. 1:13-15)—the twelve and others, both men and women to the number of one hundred and twenty, showing that the gift of the Holy Spirit was for all believers. It was for this "promise of the Father" that the disciples were to tarry at Jerusalem (Luke 24:49).

4. The marks of the Spirit (vv. 2-4). The sound of a mighty wind (v. 2). This is suggestive of the mysterious, all-pervasive and powerful energy of the Spirit. Tongues of flame (v. 3). Tongues show the practical purpose of the Spirit's gift—witnessing; and the fire indicates his purifying energy burning up the dross, making effective witnessing for Christ. (e) Speaking in foreign tongues (v. 4). This was a temporary endowment for this special purpose.

5. The effects (vv. 5-13). (1) The multitude were filled with amazement and wonder, for these common men were transformed into men of power and influence. (2) Some mocked and foolishly accused the disciples of being intoxicated.

II. Peter's Sermon (vv. 14-42).

His analysis is perfect. He begins with a brief defense and scriptural explanation of the phenomena of tongues (vv. 14-21), and by a three-fold argument proves the Messiahship of Jesus (vv. 22-33).

1. The introduction (vv. 14-21). (1) Defense of the disciples against the charge of being drunk (v. 15). This he does by citing Jewish customs, showing that they would not be drunk at such an early hour of the day. (2) A scriptural explanation. He shows that it was a partial fulfillment of that which Joel predicted (vv. 16-21, cf. Joel 2:28-32) would come to pass before the Messianic judgment, namely, an outpouring of the Holy Spirit and the salvation of all who call upon the name of the Lord.

2. The argument (vv. 22-36). It is threefold: (1) From Christ's works (v. 22). He was approved of God among the Jews by his miracles, wonders and signs which God did by him in their midst, with which they were familiar. (2) From his resurrection (vv. 23-32). The Old Testament scriptures had foretold the death and resurrection of Christ (Psalms 16:8-10). The disciples were living witnesses of Christ's resurrection, for they had seen and talked with him, and handled him since his resurrection (v. 32). (3) From his ascension to be at the right hand of God (v. 32). The proof that he had ascended on high was the wonderful miracle of the Spirit's operation in their midst; for he had said that upon his ascension into heaven he would send forth the Spirit. The conclusion is that Jesus of Nazareth is both Lord and Christ, the one of whom Joel prophesied (v. 36), and that the Jews are guilty of an awful crime in crucifying him.

4. The effect of the sermon (vv. 37-42). Many people were convicted of their sins, some 3,000 of whom repented and were baptized. The daily life of these believers was a proof of the Spirit's gift. The evidence that the coming of the Spirit was real is that (1) they continued steadfastly in the apostolic teaching (v. 42), that is, they were learning about Jesus Christ, being taught by the apostles instead of the scribes; they turned away from their blind guides and followed new ones. (2) They continued in fellowship with the apostles (v. 42). This fellowship was in the spirit, around Christ as the head; the one body being illustrated by the one loaf. (3) They continued in prayer (v. 42).

RAILWAY BUILDING AT STANDSTILL

Construction for 1919 Reaches a Low Point in History, Says Railway Age.

Chicago, January 2—Statistics compiled by the Railway Age show that the year 1920 begins with the development of the railways of the United States nearer a complete standstill than at any time since the first rail was laid in America. "In the year 1919," says the Railway Age, "the total mileage of lines built in the United States was 686 miles. This is the smallest figure which has ever been recorded by this paper. Furthermore, it does not represent a net increase in mileage. During the year 689 miles of main line railway were abandoned for operation. Prior to the year 1915 the mileage of the country was steadily increasing, although the rate at which it was increasing had been diminishing for some years and especially since 1910. The available statistics indicate that since 1916 the mileage of lines abandoned has been substantially greater than the new mileage built. "During the three years from 1917 to 1919, inclusive, our statistics indicate that operation was abandoned on 3,319 miles of line while in the same period only 2,386 miles of extensions, branch and other new lines were completed. Thus it appears that during the last three years there has been an actual decrease of 933 miles in the mileage of railways operated in the United States. "The statistics regarding the number of locomotives and cars ordered make some striking new low records. Until this year the smallest number of freight cars ordered in any year for the railways of the United States since 1901 was 62,669, this being the number ordered in 1908. In the year 1919 the number of freight cars ordered was only 21,694 and nearly all these orders were placed by private car lines as is shown that by the fact that 14,895 of the total orders were for tank cars. "The number of freight cars built for use on the United States railways was much more satisfactory, being 100,416. The result, of course, of the number of freight cars built so far exceeding the number ordered is that at the end of the year the car builders have almost no orders for American railways left on their books. "The number of locomotives ordered was 214 and most of these were ordered by industrial roads."

SHORTAGE OF RAILROAD CARS FELT BY FARMERS

Heavy Losses Incurred Because They Cannot Ship Livestock Promptly.

By United Press

Indianapolis, Jan. 2—Hoosier farmers are faced with the same problem which has confronted industries and the coal operators—a shortage of railroad cars. They are suffering heavy losses daily because they cannot obtain cars to market their livestock when it is ready, according to officials of the Indiana Federation of Farmers Associations. At some places there have been weeks of delay according to reports at the farmers headquarters.

Lewis G. Taylor, secretary of the association, said agents of the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad had informed shippers that they could have cars within six hours if it were not for the "higher-ups." Acting for the federation, Taylor appealed to United States Senator Harry S. New asking that he seek relief for them through the railroad administration. New promised immediate cooperation. Telegrams sent previously to the Indiana delegation in the lower house of congress brought some relief, but since then the situation has tightened somewhat and has recently become worse than ever.

Do You Know Why Red Blooded Men Are Successful?

There are just two kinds of men—the weak, thin blooded, half sick, discouraged kind, who lack ambition, strength and vitality—and the red-blooded, ambitious, self-reliant men—vigorous and successful. The strong, red-blooded, healthy men who can stand the strain of hard work, and carry heavy responsibilities, without worry or fear, are the men who succeed. Do you know why they are red blooded, full of energy and vigor? Do you know why they succeed? The blood supplies the material necessary for nourishing every tissue, nerve, bone, muscle and fluid in the body, and for carrying on every process of life. There are over three million red blood corpuscles in one drop of blood, and these red blood corpuscles carry the iron in the blood. Iron attracts oxygen, just as a magnet attracts steel. Without oxygen you cannot live. It vitalizes the blood and makes it red, rich and healthy. That's why red blooded men are strong, energetic, and successful. Their blood is vitalized with life-giving oxygen, and liberally supplied with the iron and cell-salts that nature must have to maintain health. REOLO produces a rapid increase in the number of red blood cells and plasma of the blood. It increases the supply of oxygen in the blood, stimulates the nervous system, and accelerates the circulation, sending through the entire body a stream of rich, red, vitalized blood, abundantly supplied with oxygen, iron and the cell-salts that nourish and rebuild the cells. Start the REOLO systematic treatment today and you will be delighted with the steady improvement in your health.

WORKS HARD TO AVERT FLU EPIDEMIC

Government and City Health Officials Warn People to Keep Clean.

Stay Away from People with Coughs and Colds.

"Avoid crowds if you want to avoid influenza," says Association for Improving the Conditions of New York. Keep your hands clean, drink plenty of fresh water; sleep with windows open; eat three uniform meals a day including a good breakfast. People who have catarrh or frequent colds invite influenza, declares a prominent Kentucky druggist. The membrane of the throat and nose is raw, sore and tender, and makes a lovely abiding place for germs to thrive and multiply. He advises an inexpensive home-made remedy that will bring relief in less than a day and will stop all discharge and soothe and heal the inflamed membrane in a few days. Thousands are making this beneficial remedy at home and anyone who has catarrh or a cold can do the same. Pour three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arcine into a pint bottle, then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled. Gargle the throat as directed and snuff or spray the liquid into the nostrils twice daily. It's a simple way to get rid of cold and catarrh and keeps the nasal passage and throat clean and healthy. Nearly all druggists dispense Mentholized Arcine in vials containing exactly three-quarters of an ounce, which is all you need to make a pint of this healthful medicine.

A Romance of the Blackhawk War

Rale chuckled, patting the side of the horse next him.

"Whole caboodle workin' like a charm," he said, good humoredly. "Thought onct the deputy might show up ugly, but a quart o' red-eye sure fixed him—thar's our party a comin' now. Y'er ter stay right whar ye are."

They were advancing toward us up the bank which sloped down toward the creek. Rale moved forward to meet them across the little open space, and a moment later, from my hiding place among the motionless horses I became able to distinguish the slowly approaching figures. There were four in the party, apparently from the garb two men and two women. The second man might be the preacher, but if so, why should he be there? Why should his presence at this time be necessary? Unless the two main conspirators had special need for his services, I could conceive no reason for his having any part in the action that night. Had I been deceived in their plans? Even as this fear overwhelmed me with consternation, I was compelled to notice how helplessly the first of the two women walked—as though her limbs refused to support her body, even though apparently upheld by the grip of the man beside her. Rale, joining them, immediately grasped her other arm.

"Yer must'r give her one h— o' a dose," he growled, angrily. "Half o' thet wud a bin nough. Why, d— it, she kin hardly walk."

"Well, what's the odds?" it was Kirby who replied sarcastically. "She got more because she wouldn't drink. We had to make her take it, and it wasn't no easy job. Gaskins will tell you that. Have you got your man here?"

"O' course; he's waitin' thar with the horses. But I'm d— if I like this. She don't know nuthin', does she?"

ASPIRIN FOR HEADACHE

Name "Bayer" is on Genuine Aspirin—say Bayer

Insist on "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in a "Bayer package," containing proper directions for Headache, Colds, Pain Neuralgia, Lumbago, and Rheumatism. Name "Bayer" means genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for ninety years. Handy tin boxes of 12 tablets cost few cents. Aspirin is trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoacetic acidester of Salicylic acid.

"Maybe not now; but she'll come around all right, and she signed her name. So there ain't no hitch. She seemed to get worse after that. Come on, we can't stand talking here; let's get them off, Jack; there isn't any time to waste. I suppose we'll have to strap her into the saddle."

I held back, and permitted them to work, merely leading my own horse slightly to one side and keeping in his shadow. Gaskins brutally jerked the shrinking mulatto forward and forced her to mount one of the horses. She made some faint protest, the nature of which I failed to catch clearly, but the fellow only laughed in reply and ordered her to keep quiet. Eloise uttered no word, emitted no sound, made no struggle, as the two other men lifted her bodily into the saddle, where Kirby held her, swaying helplessly against him, while Rale strapped her securely into place.

The entire proceedings were so brutally cruel that it required all my strength of will to restrain myself from action. My fingers closed upon the pistol in my pocket, and every impulse urged me to hurl myself on the fellow, trusting everything to swift, bitter fight. I fairly trembled in eagerness to grapple with Kirby, hand to hand, and crush him helpless to the earth.

"Thar," said the saloonkeeper, at last, testing his strap. "I reckon she can't fall off nowhow, even if she don't sit up worth a d—. Go ahead now, Moffett."

Both men stepped aside, and I led my horse forward. The movement brought me more into the open, and face to face with Kirby. By some trick of fate, at that very instant a star-gleam, piercing through the screen of leaves overhead, struck full into my eyes. With an oath he thrust my hat back and stared straight at me.

I could not see the mingled hate and horror glaring in the man's eyes, but there could be no doubt of his recognition. The acknowledgment found expression in a startled exclamation.

"By God!—you, here!"

That was all the time I gave him. With every pound of strength, with every ounce of dislike, I drove a clenched fist into that surprised face, and the fellow went down as though smitten by an ax. Even as he reeled, Rale leaped on me, cursing, failing to understand the cause, yet instinctively realizing the presence of an enemy. His grip was at my throat, and, even as his fingers closed savagely, he struck me with one knee in the stomach, and drove an elbow straight into my face. The next instant we were locked together so closely any blow became impossible, youth and agility waging fierce battle against brutal strength. I think I was his match, yet this I never knew—for all my thought centered in an effort to keep his hands from reaching any weapon. Whatever happened to me, there must be no alarm, no noise sufficiently loud so as to attract the attention of sentries on guard. This affair must be fought out with bare knuckles and straining sinews—fought in silence to the end. I held him to me in a bear grip, but his overmastering strength bore me backward, my body bending beneath the strain until every muscle ached.

"D— you—you sneakin' spy!" he hissed savagely, and his jaws snapped at me like a mad beast. "Let go! d— you—let go!"

"D— You, You Sneakin' Spy!" He Hisssed Savagely.

Crazed by the pain, I swerved to one side, and half fell, my grip torn loose from about his arms, but as instantly closing again around his lower body. He strained, but failed to break my grasp, and I should have hurled him over the hip, but at that hurried Gaskins struck me, and I went tumbling down, with the saloonkeeper falling flat on top of me, his pudgy fingers still clawing fiercely at my throat. It seemed as though consciousness left my brain, crushed into death by those gripping hands, and yet the spark of life remained, for I heard the ex-preacher utter a yelp, which ended in a moan, as a blow struck him; then Rale was jerked off me, and I sobbingly caught my breath, my throat free. Into my dazed mind there echoed the sound of a voice.

"Is thet 'nough, Jack?—then holler. D— yer, yer try thet again, an' I'll spill what brains yet got all over this kinty. Yes, it's Tim Kennedy talkin', an' he's talkin' ter ye. Now yer lie whar yer are. Yer ain't killed, be ye, Knox?"

I managed to lift myself out of the dirt, still clutching for breath but with my mind clearing.

"No; I guess I'm all right, Tim," I said, panting out the words with an effort. "What's become of Kirby? Don't let him get away."

"I ain't likely to. He's a lyin' right whar yer dropped him. Holy smoke!"

"Now Gag Him, Tim," I Said Quietly.

sounded ter me like ye hit him with a pole-ax. I got his gun, an' thet's whut's makin' this skunk hold so blame still—oh, yes, I will, Jack Rale; I'm just a achin' ter let ye hav' it."

"And the other fellow? He hit me."

"My ol' frien', Gaskins; thet's him, all right." The deputy gave vent to a short, mirthless laugh. "Oh, I rapped him with the butt; had ter do it. He'd got hold ov a club somwhar, an' was goin' ter give yer another. It will be a while, I reckon, fore he takes much interest. What'll I do with this red-headed gink?"

I succeeded in reaching my feet, and stood there a moment, gaining what view I could through the darkness. The short struggle, desperate as it had been, was not a noisy one, and I could hear nothing about us to indicate any alarm. Kennedy had one hard knee pressed into Rale's abdomen and the star-rays reflected back the steel glimmer of the pistol held threateningly before the man's eyes. The horses beyond stood motionless, and the two women in the saddles appeared like silent shadows. I stood up once more, peering through the darkness and listening. Whatever was to be done I must decide, and quickly.

"Have Rale stand up, but keep him covered. Don't give him any chance to break away; now wait—there is a lariat rope hanging to this saddle; I'll get it."

It was a strong cord and of good length, and we proceeded to bind the fellow securely in spite of his objections, I taking charge of the pistol, while Tim, who was more expert, did the job in a workmanlike manner.

"Now gag him, Tim," I said quietly. "Yes, use the neckerchief. That will do; all we can hope for is a few hours' start."

"Is Kirby dead?"

"I'm afraid not, but he has got an ugly bump and lost some blood; his head struck a rock when he fell. It will be a while, I imagine, before he wakes up. How about your man?"

He crossed over and bent down above the fellow, feeling with his hands in the darkness.

"I reckon he's a goner, cap," he admitted, as though surprised. "Gosh, I must'r hit the cuss harder than I thought—fair caved in his head, the pore devil. I reckon it's no great loss ter nobbody."

"But are you sure he is dead? That will put a different aspect on all this, Kennedy!" I exclaimed gravely, facing him as he arose to his feet. "That and the belief I now have that Kirby has already consummated his plan of marriage with Miss Beauchaire."

"You mean he has—"

In Memoriam.

After months of suffering borne in silence and without complaint, after a brave struggle against the inevitable having chosen his Savior, serene in his existence, content and resigned to whatever might follow, our friend, our fellow and neighbor Dr. Millard F. Gerrish surrendered his soul to his Maker.

Endowed by his Creator with a strong and rugged body, the night was never so dark, the elements never so angry, nor the tumult never so fierce but what he responded to any summons for his help. Intrusted by the authorities with the health of the community he fearlessly entered the haunts of disease, looking neither to the right nor to the left he sternly and rigidly enforced quarantine.

The last two scores of months witnessed the sweep of two epidemics the last of which left pre-eminently its mark, especially upon the ranks of our profession, exacting victims from our numbers whose members are already too few. The Lord says "thou shalt be steadfast and shalt not fear." In the pursuit of duty he reckoned not what danger it might mean to himself but steadily without fear or favor pursued his way to the end. Numbering the days of his years it was not accorded to him to reach the psalmist's limit but every moment pulsing with activity, every hour freighted with usefulness, he pursued this path until at last tired nature, overwhelmed by the unequal and never ending struggle yielded after a wonderful fight to the grim reaper.

Now therefore, we the Jackson County Medical Society cognizant of his long membership and fellowship, his active services among us, resolve that we extend to his widow our sympathy in her deep bereavement that we spread this memorial in full upon our records, give to the widow a copy, and a copy to the daily press.

FAMOUS AVIATOR ARRIVES

M. Marchal, one of the most famous of French aviators, and his wife, who have just come to America for a visit, M. Marchal was the only allied aviator to fly over Berlin during the war. He dropped pamphlets in the city. At another time he flew across Germany to Russia but was captured on the way back. He escaped in a German general's uniform.

Children's Banks.

An example of a successful public school savings bank system is to be found in Nottingham, England, where the institutions are conducted as far as possible in the same manner as ordinary banks, thus not only adding to their educational value, but creating in the minds of the youthful depositors a sense of the importance of saving. Deposits are placed in local banks, and the accounts are audited quarterly. Once each week deposits are received and withdrawal orders paid, teachers acting as tellers. Sums as low as 2 cents are accepted. There are 194 of the banks in Nottingham, with 15,234 depositors, and with aggregate deposits of $19,128.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Wireless Phone Not Bulky.

The wireless telephone of Dr. Lee De Forest is not a bulky apparatus. It might be set upon a table at one's elbow and connected to the electric light circuit. Conversations may be carried on with any similar instrument within a radius of 25 miles. Sound wave adjusters prevent anyone else but the "right number" from listening in. The device is so simple, the inventor says, that a child can operate it.

Building City for Employees.

On the outbreak of the war the Westinghouse company found itself compelled to abandon a rather extensive house-building program which had been started, but this has been resumed, and 48 houses for its employees are now under way. These homes form only a part of a general building plan for the development of a large tract. It is estimated this tract will furnish homes for 600 families. Sidewalks and paving will be laid, and gas, water and electricity will be provided for. The houses, which are modern in construction, will be of brick with hollow tile backing, with concrete cellars and cement porches. They will consist mainly of five, six and seven-room houses, designed to meet the needs and the pocketbook of the man in moderate circumstances, and will be sold at cost on easy terms to the employees of the company. A number of the dwellings will be for rent.

New Zealand Importing Timber.

It seems curious that a country so reputedly rich in timber as New Zealand should be importing such material, but during the last five months America has sent over some 45,000 feet of redwood, yellow pine, shingles and lath, chiefly from Oregon.
